About the Webinar

Looking at the current scenario various kinds of social unrest, violence and disharmony among and between the Nations is being seen. In this regard, the UN has proposed a theme "Psychological contributions to building bridges among and within Nations" on The World Psychology Day 2020.

The global pandemic of COVID- 19 seems to be a big trigger for it. It is important for psychologists to search for means to bridge this gap between Nations and between people, leaving behind all the discriminations of gender, cast, creed, and Nationality. It is also important to know what our young generation thinks about it and how they want to deal with it.

Therefore, with this theme, AMPGC is organizing an International Webinar and providing a platform for presenting and discussing youth's perspective, focusing on the role of positive psychology in building bridges among and within nations in the light of expert's views.
